

Angel Investment Tax Credit Bill (April 2012)

We are pleased to inform you that Governor Martinez signed House Bill 123, continuing the state's Angel Investment Tax Credit until the end of 2016!

This will provide a personal tax credit of up to $25,000 to accredited investors that invest in high technology research and development or a manufacturing business in New Mexico. Governor Martinez states: "This is an important program that encourages the growth and development of important high-tech jobs in New Mexico."

The New Mexico Angels' mission is to provide opportunities where its members can obtain outstanding financial returns by investing in early-stage companies in New Mexico and the Southwest region and accelerate them to market leadership. The Angels work with the venture capital community and angel groups in the Southwest.

For more information about the New Mexico Angels contact John Chavez at ichavez@nmangels.com or visit their website: <http://www.nmangels.com>. And, Deborah Peacock serves on the Board of New Mexico Angels.